

Why should I become a FOSTER PARENT?

Listen to what other foster parents had to say about the experience:

To Give a Child Love

"We believe there is a family for every child and that it is important to show children they can be loved. As proud foster parents, we encourage other people to open their hearts and homes because the love they will give and receive as a foster parent is more than they could ever imagine. OhioGuidestone is great! They offer a lot of support for parents and children and they let us be honest about our feelings as foster parents."

~ Becky & Johnny Templeton

To Help a Child in Need

"We became foster parents because we felt that God was leading us to provide a loving home for children in need. Our family chose OhioGuidestone after numerous recommendations of the agency's high quality from people in the field. The well trained and reliable staff, as well as their quick response made us feel very comfortable and secure as foster parents. Being a foster parent is a very rewarding experience. There is a great joy in watching the children's accomplishments towards a meaningful life, as well as you own personal gain in love, wisdom and patience."

~ Ron & Dee Kent

Smiles are the Best Reward

"Foster parenting is very rewarding when you see the big smiles on kid's faces, or when you help them master a skill. When he came to us, one of our foster children was failing the second grade. But we worked with him on his school assignments and homework and by the end of the school year he was passing with honors! We love being in the OhioGuidestone network, because the staff we work with are great. They are here for us and for the children every step of the way."
