For Immediate Release: OhioGuidestone Receives Prestigious EAGLE Re-Accreditation with Commendation!

(Berea, Ohio, October 2014) We are pleased to announce that OhioGuidestone has not only re-attained our prestigious EAGLE accreditation, but has received re-accreditation with commendation! EAGLE's (Educational Assessment Guidelines Leading toward Excellence) goal is to recognize organizations that voluntarily go beyond the minimum requirements of licensure to improve operational processes and outcomes. With our commendation distinction, OhioGuidestone is recognized as a premier member of the list of faith-based, EAGLE accredited organizations.

Since 1984, EAGLE Accreditation has incrementally evolved as a unique, voluntary, self-assessment, peer review program for faith-based organizations. Today, EAGLE is the only faith-based accrediting body in the world, and challenges organizations not just to compete in a challenging human services environment, but to soar above the competition while living their faith values! "We are honored to have received this commendation," says Rich Frank, President and CEO, OhioGuidestone. "We believe our faith-based approach helps those we serve work towards a fulfilling life."
